"I am now writing the music for a Requiem. I would appreciate comments and advice. It can be seen, heard, & is a free download at: <http://songsforpraise.com/Requiem.html>
So far I have the Introit, Kyrie Eleison, Offertory, Agnus Dei, and am working on the Sanctus in 8 parts.
I am 83. I seldom go to church, or anywhere else. I work almost full time on church music which can all be freely downloaded from my web site SongsforPraise.com."

KEN MEDEMA is offering custom songs to give your loved one. Just answer the questions he has below and he will design the song especially for that person. If you have ever been in a Medema concert where he actually composes a song right during the concert, you know of his incredible talent in this area.
Here is information about how to order a song:

Here are some of the questions asked on the Personal Song form You will be asked:

Who would you like the song written for?
What is your relationship to this person?
Do you have a special nickname for this person?
Why do you want to honor this person with a song?
What is the occasion for this song? (Valentine's Day, Birthday, Anniversary, Wedding, etc.)
What qualities do you admire about this person?
What style of music does this person enjoy?
What special interests or favorite activities does this person have?
Is there a special memory that you share with this person that may be relevant to include in your song?
Is there anything else that Ken should be made aware of regarding this song?
What would you like on the CD label?
When specifically is this song needed ?

Don't delay . . . the deadline for having a "Personal Song" composed is December 11, 2009 in order to have it delivered before this Christmas, however, we feel that the earlier you get your song order in, the better the possibility of actually having it delivered on time. (All orders are on a 1st come 1st serve basis and limited to availability) The cost for Ken to compose, and produce a studio recording on CD of your Personal Song is $150 plus shipping and handling.
